

Adult Character Roster

1. School Nurse: Ms. Olivia “Liv” Parker

- Role: Clinic-based health support. Provides practical health advice (e.g., period prep, hygiene tips, period emergencies, first aid, anxiety tips).
- Personality: Warm, approachable, and slightly quirky (e.g., wears band-aid earrings).
- Signature Activity: Herbal tea sessions; stress-ball giveaways.
- Key Contributions:
 - Runs a “Zen Zone” corner in the clinic for stressed students.
 - Distributes free hygiene kits discreetly.

2. Health Teacher: Ms. Lauren Hayes

- Role: Leads the project alongside the other teachers. Teaches puberty, hygiene, nutrition, and mental health basics. Acts as a mentor to the girls, especially during awkward moments (e.g., Mia’s first period).
- Background:
 - Former middle school PE teacher turned health educator.
 - Created a viral YouTube series “Health Hacks for Real Life.”
 - Passionate about making health education fun and approachable (“Your body is your best friend—let’s learn how to take care of it!”).
- Teaching Style:
 - Hands-on and relatable (e.g., “Period Kit Olympics” where students race to assemble supplies, “Build Your Period Kit”).
 - Uses memes to explain topics (“When your hormones throw a party, but you’re the cleanup crew”).
 - Hosts “Wellness Wednesdays” with guest speakers (e.g., a nutritionist, a yoga instructor).
- Quirk: Wears sneakers with puberty-themed charms (tiny uterus, brain, heart). Keeps a “Question Jar” where students can anonymously submit puberty questions.

3. Science Teacher: Dr. Priya “Growth Spurt” Gupta

- Role: Biology of puberty, anatomy, mental health science.
- Background:
 - Former pediatrician turned middle school science teacher.
 - Specializes in adolescent health; wrote a viral blog “Puberty: The Ultimate Glow-Up” under the nickname “Dr. Growth Spurt.”
 - Openly discusses her own struggles with anxiety in middle school.
- Teaching Style:
 - Uses funny analogies (“Hormones are like group chats—sometimes chaotic, but they get the job done!”).
 - Hosts “Ask Me Anything” sessions with a cardboard cutout of a brain named Cortex.

- Quirk: Wears science-themed earrings (DNA strands, uterus shapes, serotonin molecules).
- Key Contributions:
 - Teaches hormone basics (e.g., “Estrogen vs. Testosterone Tug-of-War”).
 - Partners with Ms. Hayes for cross-subject projects (e.g., tracking growth spurts).

4. Social Studies Teacher: Ms. Amina Hassan

- Role: Cultural traditions, family structures, global coming-of-age rituals.
- Background:
 - Lebanese-American anthropologist who studied global coming-of-age rituals.
 - Traveled to 15+ countries documenting rites of passage (quinceañeras, Ojibwe berry fasts, Jewish bat mitzvahs).
 - Raised in a blended family (step-siblings, two moms).
- Teaching Style:
 - Assigns projects like “Interview Your Elders” to share family/cultural stories.
 - Brings artifacts to class (e.g., a Māori taonga necklace, a Hanbok dress).
- Quirk: Starts every class with a “global greeting” (e.g., “Kia ora!”, “Namaste!”).
- Key Contributions:
 - Hosts a “Puberty Around the World” fair in Book 7.
 - Helps Mia explore her Lebanese heritage through letters to Mema Hazel.

5. Arts Teacher: Ms. Clara Bennett

- Role: Arts Teacher (Creative Self-Expression, body positivity, emotional storytelling).
- Background:
 - A former children’s book illustrator who now teaches art and creative writing.
 - Published a series of books about girls overcoming challenges (“The Brave Brush”).
 - Loves incorporating storytelling into her lessons.
- Teaching Style:
 - Assigns projects like “Turn Your Awkward Phase into Art” (e.g., Jada makes a comedy skit, Emma paints mood swings).
 - Hosts “Creative Corners” where students share their work in a supportive environment.
- Quirk: Always wears colorful scarves and carries a sketchbook everywhere.
- Key Themes: Body image, emotional storytelling, self-esteem.
- Key Contributions:
 - Guides Emma’s vlog storyboards and Jada’s comedy skits.
 - Collaborates on the Friendship Quilt project.

6. Media Literacy Teacher: Ms. Rachel Carter

- Role: Social media safety, digital etiquette, beauty standards.
- Key Themes: Cyberbullying, beauty standards, online etiquette.
- Signature Activity: “Spot the Photoshop!” challenges; “Digital Detox Day.”

- Background:
 - A former journalist who now teaches media literacy and digital safety.
 - Wrote a popular blog debunking beauty myths and promoting healthy self-esteem.
 - Passionate about helping girls navigate the digital world confidently.
- Teaching Style:
 - Uses memes and viral videos to teach critical thinking (“Spot the Photoshop!” challenges).
 - Hosts a “Digital Detox Day” where students swap phones for journals.
- Quirk: Wears shirts with slogans like “Algorithm Survivor” or “DMs Aren’t Diplomas.”
- Key Contributions:
 - Debunks Photoshop myths in Book 9.
 - Mentors Ivy’s app development for tracking puberty changes.

7. School Counselor: Ms. Grace Nguyen

- Role: Focuses on emotional support, friendship dynamics, conflict resolution and social development (e.g., anxiety, friendships).
- Personality: Calm, insightful, and a great listener.
- Key Contributions:
 - Leads group discussions on anxiety and crushes.
 - Helps Jada balance humor with vulnerability.
 - Helps the girls navigate challenges.

Thematic Collaboration Chart

Theme/Book	Lead Educator	Supporting Adult	Collaboration Example
1. Puberty Quest	Ms. Hayes (Health Teacher)	Dr. Gupta (Science)	Ms. Hayes explains puberty basics; Dr. Gupta dives into hormone science.
2. Body Basics Bootcamp	Dr. Gupta (Science)	Ms. Hayes (Health)	Dr. Gupta teaches anatomy; Ms. Hayes demonstrates hygiene routines.
3. Hairy Tales	Ms. Bennett (Arts)	Ms. Hassan (Social Studies)	Ms. Bennett hosts a "Body Hair Art" project; Ms. Hassan shares cultural hair rituals.
4. Period Power-Up	Ms. Hayes (Health)	Nurse Parker (School Nurse)	Ms. Hayes explains cycles; Nurse Parker demos period kits.

5. Mood Masters	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Dr. Gupta (Science)	Counselor Nguyen teaches coping strategies; Dr. Gupta explains brain chemistry.
6. Stress Busters	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Ms. Bennett (Arts)	Counselor Nguyen leads mindfulness sessions; Ms. Bennett guides "Zen Zone" art projects.
7. Body Image Revolution	Ms. Hassan (Social Studies)	Ms. Bennett (Arts)	Ms. Hassan critiques beauty norms; Ms. Bennett creates body-positive murals.
8. Friendship First	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Ms. Carter (Media Literacy)	Counselor Nguyen resolves conflicts; Ms. Carter discusses online friendships.
9. Social Smarts	Ms. Carter (Media Literacy)	Ms. Hayes (Health)	Ms. Carter analyzes peer pressure; Ms. Hayes teaches assertiveness.
10. Boundaries Unleashed	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Ms. Hayes (Health)	Counselor Nguyen role-plays boundary-setting; Ms. Hayes covers consent.
11. Digital Detectives	Ms. Carter (Media Literacy)	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Ms. Carter debunks online myths; Counselor Nguyen addresses cyberbullying.
12. Mental Health Mission	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Dr. Gupta (Science)	Counselor Nguyen discusses mental health; Dr. Gupta explains serotonin/dopamine roles.
13. Relationship Rescue	Counselor Nguyen (Counselor)	Ms. Hayes (Health)	Counselor Nguyen navigates crushes; Ms. Hayes teaches healthy communication.
14. Healthy Habits Hideout	Ms. Hayes (Health)	Nurse Parker (School Nurse)	Ms. Hayes plans nutrition guides; Nurse Parker shares sleep hygiene tips.

Key Collaboration Dynamics

1. Health + Science: Ms. Hayes and Dr. Gupta team up for biology/hygiene crossover lessons.
 2. Arts + Social Studies: Ms. Bennett and Ms. Hassan blend creativity with cultural context.
 3. Counselor + Media Literacy: Counselor Nguyen and Ms. Carter tackle digital/emotional challenges.
 4. Health + Nurse: Ms. Hayes and Nurse Parker bridge theory and practical care.
-

Why This Works

- Real-World Accuracy: Reflects how schools use interdisciplinary teams (e.g., health + science for puberty education).
- Character Strengths: Each adult's expertise shines (e.g., Ms. Carter's media savvy, Dr. Gupta's science rigor).
- Reader Engagement: Shows teamwork as a model for problem-solving, mirroring the girls' friendships.

Would you like to adjust any pairings or brainstorm activities for a specific theme? This framework ensures every adult contributes meaningfully! 🌟